

SOVIET BEATEN IN TRY TO KILL REPORT ON WAR

U. N. Votes to Send Data To General Assembly; Malik May Use Veto

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 8 (AP)—Russia lost today a move to eliminate the Korean war from the Security Council's annual report to the United Nations General Assembly.

But she may try to make the demand stick by invoking the veto next week to kill the whole report. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik contended at a closed council meeting that adoption of the report is a substantive matter and, thus, subject to the veto. The other council members disagreed.

The majority was reported determined to send the report along to the assembly, veto or no veto. Diplomatic quarters said there were several ways this could be done. The simplest way, it was pointed out, would be for Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb, council president, to send it along with a covering letter saying it had been approved by the majority but vetoed by Russia.

THE ACTUAL proposal which Russia submitted at today's closed-door session was to eliminate all sections of the report covering decisions between Jan. 13, when the Soviet boycott began, and July 15.

Malik said all actions of the council during the period of the Soviet boycott were illegal and hence have no place in the report. The council ordered United Nations intervention in Korea on June 27—during the Russian boycott.

The vote was 10 to 1, with Malik alone supporting the Soviet proposal. The council holds another closed session next Tuesday to seek final approval of the report.

The Soviet delegate did not say definitely that he will use the veto. He could abstain. But this looked unlikely. He had already said at an earlier meeting that he could not vote for any report covering the period when Russia was absent.

If Russia vetoes inclusion of Korea in the Security Council's annual report it will be the first time the veto has been used on the report and the first time, too, that the report is put to a formal vote.

Marine League Asks Firing of Johnson; Acheson Gets Okay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Marine Corps league turned down a plea from President Truman today and demanded the ouster of Secretary of Defense Johnson on the ground that he has slashed America's defenses to "a dangerously low level."

The organization of ex-leathernecks, winding up its annual convention, defeated however a similar proposal that Secretary of State Acheson be fired.

Mr. Truman appealed only yesterday, in a personal appearance before the convention, for an end to attacks on government officials.

Such attacks really are against the President himself, Mr. Truman told the delegates in a face-to-face follow-up of his apology to the Marines for saying they had a propaganda machine "almost equal to Stalin's."

While the delegates cheered the President's talk they rejected his advice today by blasting Johnson's policies as "shortsighted, inefficient and dictatorial."

URGING THAT Johnson be replaced by "a competent and far-sighted statesman," the ex-Marines adopted with only one dissenting vote a resolution declaring:

"As a result of the blundering of the Defense department, our troops in Korea have suffered heavy casualties and reverses, and the military and political position of the U. S. has been reduced to a dangerously low level."

Brig. Gen. Robert C. Kilmer of Washington cast the single no vote. "President Truman asked our support and we ought to give it," Kilmer argued. He likewise opposed the anti-Acheson resolution.

Truman Signs Controls Bill; Installment Buying Tightened

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Tighter credit terms on many items ranging from automobiles to home repairs were ordered today immediately after President Truman signed a bill giving him virtually wartime powers over the nation's economy.

The new curbs on time-payment buying will go into effect Sept. 18, the Federal Reserve board said.

The White House announcement that Mr. Truman had signed the home-front economic mobilization bill came shortly after 4 p. m., Pottstown time.

Less than an hour later, the Reserve board ordered higher down payments and shorter time limitations for paying off than generally prevail now for a wide variety of installment purchases. Charge accounts and single-payment purchases are not affected.

On automobiles, the new order requires down payments of at least one-third and sets a 21-month limit for completing payment.

THE BOARD'S control order was the first issued under the new legislation passed by Congress on Sept. 1 giving President Truman broad powers to control prices, wages, credit and strategic materials—at his discretion.

Further belt-tightening steps are expected to be outlined by Mr. Truman in a nationwide broadcast Saturday night at 10:30 p. m., Pottstown time.

R. M. Evans, a member of the Federal Reserve board, told newsmen that the initial consumer credit controls are not intended as a "knockout drop" to installment buying.

He said today's order was designed chiefly as a brake on the recent upsurge of installment purchases in which low credit terms tended to stimulate the war "scare" buying and hoarding.

Overall installment credit has soared to more than $20,000,000,000 since the outbreak of the Korean war on June 25.

Evans said the board is ready to issue even stiffer curbs "if the situation worsens—and we hope it won't."

The board said it had received reports that many recent installment sales of appliances and furniture were made with down payments of 10 percent or less, and "in many cases only token or no down payments."

Words are woefully inadequate to express the poignant scene captured by a cameraman in Milwaukee, Wis., as a soldier contents himself with a squeeze from his daughter's hand instead of a last hug and a kiss. It doesn't take bullets, bayonets or bombs to inflict pain in wartime. A stuck window in a railroad car can do it too.

Plea for Peace Sent To Stalin by Teacher

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Sept. 8 (AP)—A Warrensburg school teacher—"unknown except in my own community"—sent a letter to Premier Stalin of Russia today asking him to help "restore a permanent chance for peaceful living for all people."

The writer, Miss I. P. Johnson, described herself as "a sincere worker for ultimate world peace through the United Nations and the UNESCO" (United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization). She said she sent a copy of the letter to President Truman.

"I have battled against the urge to write this letter for more than a year," she wrote, "but the time has come when I cannot keep silence. Your Nation and mine are in the death throes of another war, whatever you may choose to call it."

"Let me plead with you, and our own President, to sit down together with a determination and faith that you can and will stop this murder of innocent people, and with the willingness to make reasonable concessions that will restore a permanent chance for peaceful living for all people."

"LET'S FIND modern means of settling our grievances against each other, not the century old pattern of war."

"Our nations are the leaders of the world today. Let us prove to the world that we are worthy of that leadership by letting all nations of people make their own decision as to what they believe. Let us sponsor an honest, educational effort to help men and women throughout the world to know what real freedom means. Let's work together for the good of all."

"What have we to gain by destroying each other?"

A new Miss America to succeed Jacqueline Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz., is scheduled to be chosen by midnight.

West Germany Seen Able to Muster Ten Defense Divisions WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Western Germany probably can supply ten divisions of troops for the defense of Western Europe within a year if and when the Allied powers decide they want German manpower in a West European defense system.

This estimate comes from highly authoritative sources and is understood to be a factor in top level policy conferences going on here in preparation for next week's New York meeting of American, British, and French foreign ministers.

Use of German manpower, in the American view, depends primarily on three conditions which have yet to be met. They are:

1. Agreement among Britain, France, the United States and other Atlantic Pact Allies that such limited German rearmament is desirable.

2. Creation of a unified command for the defense system of Western Europe which would automatically provide a system to which German military units could be assigned.

3. Development of an adequate supply of arms to equip not only German units but also to carry forward at a vastly increased rate the rearmament of the Atlantic treaty powers.

Miss America Race Moves to Final Lap

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—This Miss America pageant tacked up its "last chance" sign tonight for 54 lovely lasses who want the beauty title.

The girls from 46 states, four cities, Alaska, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico trembled through the last preliminary. Only 15 will get a crack at the nation's most coveted beauty crown in tomorrow night's final.

Judges will announce at curtain time tomorrow night which 15 scored enough points in poise, figure, talent and personality to be finalists.

A new Miss America to succeed Jacqueline Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz., is scheduled to be chosen by midnight.

Rescue Teams Reach 128 Trapped Miners

NEW CUMNOCK, Scotland, Saturday, Sept. 9 (AP)—Rescue workers bored through solid bed coal early today and brought out most of the 128 miners trapped underground for more than 24 hours.

The general manager of the Knockshinnoch Castle coal mine said the men were "all in the best of fettle."

They were trapped 720 feet underground Thursday night by an avalanche of mud and peat. Since then rescue workers have been digging to reach them.

Earlier rescuers reported they had bored through the few remaining feet of coal separating them from the entombed men. Miners on both sides of the coal wall shouted words of encouragement and cheer as rescue appeared imminent.

The rescued miners were brought from the tunnel in which they were trapped into a nearby abandoned mine.

MINE OFFICIALS said the men would be kept down in the abandoned pit for an hour and a half to be certain that all mine gas had been cleared from the shaft.

One of the rescue workers, Hugh Blackwood, 45, collapsed and died while helping others dig through the huge cave-in.

The men were caught when a rain-soaked surface as large as a football field caved in.

The Juliet, blue-eyed, 20-year-old Tassoula Petrakogeorgi, sought George Petrakogeorgi's paternal blessing of her marriage to mus-tachioed Constantine Kephalyo-annis, her jailed Romeo. The two were married 11 days after Constantine carried her off to wild Mount Ida.

New Hanover Church Services to Mark 250th Year

FOUNDING RITES TO BE OPENED BY DR. FISCHER

Other Leading Lutheran Churchmen to Take Part in Week's Observance

Dr. Emil E. Fischer, president of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, will open the week-long 250th anniversary observance of the founding of the Evangelical Lutheran church at New Hanover beginning tomorrow and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 17.

Dr. Fischer will deliver the sermon during the morning church service at 10:15 o'clock.

A second prominent churchman who will take part in the anniversary of the oldest German Lutheran church in the United States is Dr. Franklin C. Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, who will speak at 3 o'clock during the afternoon activities.

Dr. Charles B. Foelsch, pastor of Holy Trinity church, New York city, will close the anniversary with an address at 3:15 p. m. on the occasion of a homecoming service Sept. 17 for all congregations associated with the New Hanover church during its long history.

A 50-MEMBER committee, co-chaired by the Rev. Edgar H. Cooper, pastor, and William H. Lamb Sr., president of the church council, is in charge of the eight-day celebration.

Activities for the 400 members of the congregation also are scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday, with all phases of the program to be held in a large 2000-seat tent raised on the church property, except for the morning services tomorrow and the following Sunday. These will take place in the church proper.

There will be no public services Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Saturday.

A feature of tomorrow afternoon's program will be a procession of 100 Lutheran clergymen from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. A massed choir representing 21 Lutheran congregations in this area will sing. Church choirs taking part are from Pottstown, Royersford, Spring City, Red Hill, Pennsburg, Hill church, Limerick and Boyertown.

The procession will move from the church to the huge tent where Dr. Fry will speak. The anniversary is to be conducted jointly by Dr. Fischer, the Rev. Cooper and the Rev. Henry Kistler, president of the Norristown conference.

IN ORDER to provide historical data to congregations of 50 and 100 years in the future, two time capsules will be sealed in a vault on the church grounds and the spot marked by a bronze plaque. Instructions on the marker direct that the first capsule be opened in the year 2000, the other 2050.

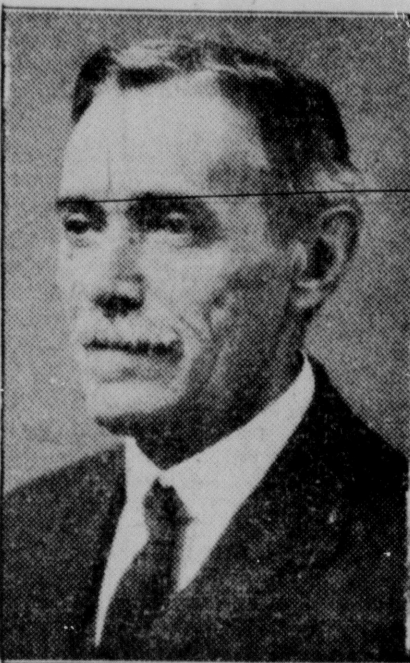

Material in the capsules will include Bibles, the church yearbook, an anniversary brochure, newspaper stories pertinent to the anniversary and other documents related to the church, its history and activities.

Letters of greeting to the 1950 congregation are also to be preserved. Writers include Pennsylvania Governor James H. Duff, Philadelphia's Mayor Bernard Samuel, Dr. E. C. Cooper, of Chapel Hill, N. C., father of the present pastor; Dr. Fry, Dr. Fischer and Bishop Hans Lilje, bishop of Hanover, Germany, where many of the church's first congregation came.

A MUSICAL AT 8 p. m. on Tuesday will feature the works of Johann Sebastian Bach, the Lutheran composer. Featured on the program will be the choirs of the New Hanover and St. John's church at Boyertown.

Artists to appear are Concert Pianists Miles and Ernest Mauney, of New York; Vocalists Freda Schindler, of Pottstown, and Frederick Pfeiffer, of New Hanover; Harpist Jean Moore, of Pottstown, and Robert McGill, organist of the Madison avenue Presbyterian church in New York city.

torical pageant depicting scenes from the life of the New Hanover congregation, will be presented Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Eighty persons are to participate in the 75-minute pageant directed by the Rev. Cooper and Miss Thelma Richards, of Pottstown. Narrator will be Miss Clara Plonk, of New York City.

COMMUNION services, with the Rev. Cooper officiating, will be held next Sunday at 10:15 a. m. The homecoming services in the afternoon at 3:15 o'clock will see ministers from nine churches that have been linked with the parent church participating.

They will be from the Emmanuel Lutheran and Grace Lutheran churches in Pottstown; St. Michael's, of Philadelphia; Trappe; St. John's, of Boyertown; Pikeland, Hill, Keelors, of Obelisk and the Oley Lutheran churches.

During these afternoon services, Dr. Foelsch will be the speaker.

America where he organized the congregation.

The spelling of Falckner's name has been changed, but it lives in the designation of the Faulkner Swamp area where the New Hanover church is situated.

Records do not show conclusively the date the first church building was constructed, though it is known to have been erected in the early years of the 1700s. The date a second church was built on the same site is established at 1721.

It was twice rebuilt—first in 1741 and again in 1767. In that edifice, 183 years later, the congregation worships.

MOST PROMINENT of the 30 pastors who have served the New Hanover Lutheran church was the "father of American Lutheranism," the Rev. Henry M. Muhlenberg, who was in the pulpit from 1742 to 1761.

It was he who encouraged the use of English in the service, although the German language as a part of the church ritual was discontinued only 15 years ago.

A second distinguished pastor was the Rev. Frederick A. Muhlenberg who later left the ministry and became the first speaker of the United States House of Representatives.

EXCEPT, PERHAPS, for its founder, no one man contributed more of his life and energy to the church than did the Rev. John Jacob Kline who preceded the Rev. Cooper in the pulpit.

The 94-year-old Rev. Kline led the congregation during an unbroken tenure of 60 years, from 1886 when he was ordained, until his resignation in 1945. He is now pastor emeritus.

In these six decades, including shorter tenures at Christ church, Niantic, Trinity church, Bechtelsville, and Grace church, Pottstown, the Rev. Kline preached 6500 sermons. He baptized 3789 persons, confirmed 2346, married 1120 couples, and officiated at 2195 funerals.

The present pastor was born in Kings Mountain, N. C., in 1922, the son of a minister. He was educated in Kings Mountain Public School, Christ School for Boys at Arden, N. C., and was graduated from Needham Broughton High School, Raleigh, N. C., in 1939.

An A. B. degree was awarded him by Lenoir Rhyne college, Hickory, N. C., in 1943. His theological training was received at Southern Lutheran seminary, Columbia, S. C., and Mt. Airy seminary, Philadelphia.

The Rev. Cooper was ordained by the Pennsylvania Ministerium in St. Michael's church, Germantown, on Oct. 30, 1945. His installation took place on Nov. 11, and he began his work on Dec. 10.

In the nearly five years he has been here, a new parsonage was completed in 1948 and construction of a new parish house, for use as an education building, has begun.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1950

Health is the greatest of all possessions; a pale cobbler is better than a sick king.—Isaac Bickerstaff.

Kill the Reidenouer Law!

SHOULD a man's usefulness end at 62? School Director Earl J. Reidenouer arbitrarily has decided all Pottstown school teachers should be fired out of the school system at 62.

He has aimed a vicious political blow at such beloved school teachers as Mary M. Wolf, E. Mabel Royer, William H. Dillman, Harry L. Smith and Wilbert O. Cressman.

They're all 62 or close to 62. According to a Reidenouer resolution passed without comment at an August school board meeting, these 62-year-olds will be retired this year.

Do you believe their usefulness to Pottstown has ended at 62?

While School Director Reidenouer was passing his head-chopping resolution, George D. Robins, a 73-year-old Hill school master, was vacationing. He could not comment.

But in the session was 70-year-old H. Clifford Creswell, a school director who did not retire from his insurance agent's job until he was 65. Mr. Creswell had an opportunity to voice his opinion on the resolution, but failed to speak up.

The Pottstown school board meets Monday night, and it is hoped these 70-year-olds, both of whom are far from being senile, will tell the youthful Mr. Reidenouer that some 65-year-olds, some 70-year-olds, yes, some 80-year-olds still make good school teachers.

This school board meeting also gives the Pottstown Teachers' association an opportunity to voice its opinion. The teachers are organized. They can present a solid front.

And this certainly is the time when they should acquaint the board with their opinion—of just what it means in dollars and cents to a school teacher, who has been underpaid probably for 40 years, to retire at the age of 62. And how useful an oldster of 62 may be to our children.

The Pennsylvania school code says retirement is mandatory at 70.

Isn't that code good enough for Pottstown? Or must Mr. Reidenouer have a special law of his own?

The resolution sponsored by Mr. Reidenouer should be wiped off the school board's books at Monday's meeting.

Pottstown should not be satisfied with a statement that "We won't enforce the law!"

THE LAW SHOULD BE WIPED OFF THE BOOKS!

Then no one, in years to come, can invoke that law to fire any school employe for any reason!

Pottstown taxpayers, too, may help over this weekend to kill this obnoxious school board law.

Every Pottstown voter—male and female—can help by telephoning school directors to voice their opposition.

If they can't reach the directors by telephone, they can write them—THEY CAN SEND PENNY POSTCARDS SAYING "KILL THE 62-YEAR RETIREMENT LAW".

Sign your name. Let the school board know how strong you are!

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where those Philies have begun to worry their followers by losing quite a few games in a row. In other words, the Whiz Kids have become the Gee Whiz! Kids.

An item says a Michigan woman was granted a divorce because her husband did nothing all day but read comic books. A situation in which, obviously, she found nothing to laugh about.

And say: The Summer resort season must be about over. It was revealed Indiana's "sea monster" was really just a beaver!

Hopin' you air the same,

Older Drivers More Dangerous Than 'Teen-Agers'

Confuse Others

To the Editor: In your All Around the Town column in Tuesday's paper you quote the National Safety Council as agreeing with the old folks that 'teen-age drivers are reckless.

As one who isn't a 'teen-ager nor one of the older folks (just in between), I want to say that some of the greatest hazards on the road today are the drivers between 60 and 75.

You have seen them, too, I know. They creep along the road at 25 miles an hour in a 50-mile an hour zone. You expect them to stop any minute or turn into the first side road.

Nothing happens until you're ready to get by. Then like old Walter Johnson winding up for a fast pitch they let go with a hay wagon turn that has you crawling for the shoulder on the opposite side of the road.

Then they have the nerve to look at you as if you were the reckless driver. I'll take my chances with the 'teen-age driver. He's usually out of my way before he can cause much trouble.

For a Constructive Bicentennial

To the Editor: Pottstown's bicentennial isn't far off now. The year 1952 isn't too far away for the town's leaders to start planning a real celebration, and I hope something constructive will be done.

Naturally, there'll be plenty of parading up and down and fireworks and speeches, but I hope that something lasting might come out of the bicentennial celebration.

I was thinking it might not be a bad idea for the borough to start planning for something like a new, modern library building, or a civic auditorium, to be erected in 1952 to celebrate 200 years of Pottstown's existence.

Whatever is done, I hope the bicentennial year won't be just an excuse for the professional veterans to go on a binge and the Chamber of Commerce to issue ringing declarations and the town fathers to glorify themselves.

If all the time, money and energy that usually go into a whopping celebration were put into something constructive, we'd have something to show when the tricentennial year comes around.

So Close—and No Ticket

To the Editor: One of these days, when my conscience gets the better of me, I shall drop off a dollar at the police station.

The past Friday, on a trip to town, I parked my car, deposited my nickel in the meter and went my merry way. An hour went by, before I thought of it again, and still another 45 minutes ticked off before I got around to my parking space.

I fully expected to find the red tag. But it wasn't there.

Oh yes, I forgot to mention it—I was parked at King and Penn streets, right across from borough hall!

Kenilworth NOT SORRY

A Paradox of War

To the Editor: Two recent items in The Mercury make me wonder just what we're doing in Korea.

One said that the United States might start drafting married men, fathers and veterans of World War II.

The other said that President Syngman Rhee, of what's left of South Korea, said, presumably by a straight face, "Those Korean young men who hesitate to serve in their own army should be ashamed."

Any comment?

Liked Fortune Teller Series

To the Editor: Congratulations on the interesting articles on the fortune tellers! I always have been convinced that only people with highly unsettled emotions patronize the crystal ball gazers and readers of the palm.

I'll wager that 90 percent of the women who go to fortune tellers do so because they want to hear good things said about them, that they don't get from "the other half" at home. They are love-starved creatures.

Most of these would do better with a psychologist.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

LITA F., 29, is the young woman with the fear of vacant lots, plus an inability to cook eggs and potatoes. Besides, she was afraid to travel along 67th street.

Fears don't sprout in our minds without some seedling incident to explain them.

But they may become so camouflaged that they deceive even the person who has them, just as dreams are often highly symbolical.

An experienced analyst, however, can quickly delve beneath the camouflage and bring out the basis episodes and incidents that generated those varied and sometimes fantastic dreams.

LITA HAD been criminally assaulted when she was of high school age. Hence, her later fear of vacant lots, which simply were reminders of that episode in her backyard.

The fear of 67th street likewise ties in clearly with the original cause of her complex. After the assault she had been taken to a Catholic hospital for medical care.

The sisters had been very kind to her, but they were unwittingly associated in her memory with this vivid experience.

On 67th Street, we have some large Catholic churches. They are also reminders of her unfortunate experience, so she is consequently afraid to travel along that thoroughfare.

The fact that Lita has difficulty cooking foods that have a vague relationship to the matter of sex, either by their origin or shape, simply shows the further extension of her basic fear to all related stimuli.

The symbolism of dreams is full of such camouflage and disguise, for human beings of the most moral and upright cultural background, make the same subconscious comparisons as those who have been deprived of such ethical training.

"But why should this complex continue and even seem to grow stronger?" some reader with an analytical mind, may logically inquire.

That is a very proper question, for Lita didn't have this complex during the few years immediately following the attack. It seems to have arisen after her marriage.

What would cause this teen-age episode to return in a disturbing fashion and now torment her happiness?

It wasn't a guilty conscience, moreover, for she had already told her husband about the incident prior to their marriage.

The crux of this difficulty, stated bluntly, is simply the fact that her husband was deficient in his knowledge of marital technique.

Lita was left with her physical affection whetted but unsatisfied. But it is a psychological truism that hungry creatures go back in their memory to those things or people who will satisfy their present unsatisfied appetite. The man who had assaulted Lita had been much more dominant than her husband.

This marital problem was soon remedied by having her husband read my medico-psychological bulletin, "Sex Problems In Marriage," and apply its advice.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8.—Well, kiddies, tomorrow we take off for our annual collapse, and George Fisher, who only has five radio shows a week to take care of, has kindly consented to take over our section for us while we siesta. George used to be "a newspaper man himself" — so he's no new hand at handing you the daily news and gossip till we catch up again Oct. 4 . . . If there's anything world-shaking on your mind — if you're just shaking — contact George Fisher at his office in the Columbia Broadcasting studio . . . "Little Boy Blue" the legit show that Paula Stone and Michael Sloane put on here Sept. 11 is only the forerunner of several that these two will open in Hollywood to "showcase" their wares, then take to Broadway. "Blue" is a real first for almost everyone connected with it. From thrush, Carol Richards, making her stage debut, to Max Showalter's musical score . . . When Howard Hawks gets around to filming "The Big Sky," Viveca Lindfors will play a maid Indian girl in it. A sort of "Johnny Belinda" with feathers — huh? . . . BARBARA HALE won't make another movie for months—on account of she has a stock date to keep. But hubby Bill Williams will be busy co-starring with Jane Nigh in "Blue Blood." Didn't Expect Hospital... Keller in New Job...

★ CASUALTY — When Mrs. Emerson Bealer, 118 Chestnut street, left the sick room of her son, Harold Bauer, in Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, for a snack, she never dreamed that she'd be a patient herself a half hour later. Mrs. Bealer was expecting her new born son, Dennis Warren, sometime in the future, but the stork had other ideas. Result: Young Bauer and his mother were both patients in the hospital. Both are home now, as Harold returned to his residence at 316 Walnut street, Thursday night. . . . Clyde L. Rupert, son of Clyde A. Rupert, Douglassville RD 1, has enlisted in the Marines for three years. He's a former North Coventry High pupil.

TEACHER—E. Richard Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Keller, RD 4, has accepted a position in the high school at Great Neck, Long Island, where he will teach English and reading. He is a graduate of the Hill school and Pennsylvania State college, where he received his B.A. in February, 1948 and his M.A. in August, 1949. He was in the U. S. Army air force from July, 1942, until December, 1945, after which he resumed his studies at Penn State. His wife, the former Mary Patricia Warren, of Sterling, Colorado, with their two sons, Michael Alan and Peter Scott, are visiting with Dick's parents until such time as their new home in Westbury, L. I., is ready for occupancy.

★ PLUG—There'll always be a salesman. Newest gimmick of the used automobile crowd is to send a salesman around Pottstown's car-packed streets. Under the windshield wipers of likely looking cars he sticks a pink slip saying, "Will you take $— for this car on a brand-new—?" Then the salesman's name, company and telephone number are listed. . . . Who says people aren't superstitious any more? Workmen were changing the names on a movie house marquee the other afternoon and the ladder straddled the middle of the sidewalk. In nearly 10 minutes, while dozens of persons walked by, not one walked under the ladder. Some started to veer away from it several feet away, while others, day-dreaming and startled to see it, moved aside when they were nearly underneath it.

SATURDAY SNICKER—The other night a lecturer on nutrition went on for hours describing the horrors of the modern diet. He waxed prolific about the dangers of certain types of foods.

Pointing his finger at a peaked, harassed looking little man, who obviously was eating the wrong kind of food, the speaker shouted:

"What is it that we all eat, at some time or another, that is the worse thing imaginable for us?"

The little man, looked around, and answered softly:

"Wedding cake."

★ HOME OWNERS—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Raker have transferred the home at 22 North Price street to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howard. . . . Walter J. Gollub has sold a home at 151 Reynolds avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Cloud and the home at 163 Reynolds avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schmidberg. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Valent have bought the home at 11 Union street from Mr. and Mrs. Myron F. Long. . . . There's an oddity on Terrace lane. Residents of the west side of the street have telephone service. East side residents have none! . . . Pottstown High school gals have a new fad. They wear men's jackets, usually given them by their boy friends.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THE common cold occurs most often during the months of October, November, December, March and April. If you are going to take cold (and the chances are that most people will on the average of from one to five times a year) you'll probably choose one of these periods for doing it, since it seems more people have colds during those months than at any other times of the year. A famous poll once indicated that in one December, 32 million Americans had either the sneezes, the sniffles, or both.

It is now pretty well established that the common cold is due to a virus, but this does little to make the ailment less baffling, since we neither know which virus is guilty, nor have any medicine to combat it.

There are available on the market today, many drugs which, it would appear, may be of some help in treating the early cold. The effectiveness of these so-called anti-histamine drugs in the treatment of colds has, however, not yet been definitely established, and it is wise not to attempt self-medication of a cold by the use of these new and powerful drugs.

A more important method of controlling the disease would appear to be for each individual to attempt to keep himself in such good physical condition that the virus would have no chance to get started in the body. Apparently, changes in the lining membrane of the nose and throat, due to exposure to variations in the weather, such as occur in the Fall and Spring, give the virus its chance to give us a cold.

There are other factors which contribute to the development of a cold. These are excessive worry, anxiety and poor nutrition as a result of a bad diet.

The best treatment for a cold is still the old-fashioned one of remaining at home. If fever is present, the patient should go to bed. This helps to relieve the symptoms already present and prevents the exposure of other people to the infection which one already has. Steam inhalants frequently give a tremendous amount of relief. If an apparatus for the manufacture of steam is not available, the same effect may be obtained by applying a hot, moist bath towel to the face.

Answer: It is possible for the mole to change color without its being cancer. However, an examination should be made by a physician just to be sure that cancer changes are not occurring.

The House that CONVICTION BUILT

When many people have the same conviction about a thing, they usually get together. They become members of a party, or a society, or a congregation.

Every Sunday in the churches of our community many people get together. They have the same conviction about God—they worship together.

When they worship, they offer thanks, they ask help. They sing to express their happiness. They listen to enrich their minds with the truth that comes from God. And before they bow their heads to receive final benediction, they give such gifts as they can to their Lord's work.

All of us have need for worship—it is a part of human nature and the divine will of God. So for your greatest benefit and happiness, choose a Church in this community—attend its services and join in its work. Make it YOUR CHURCH.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

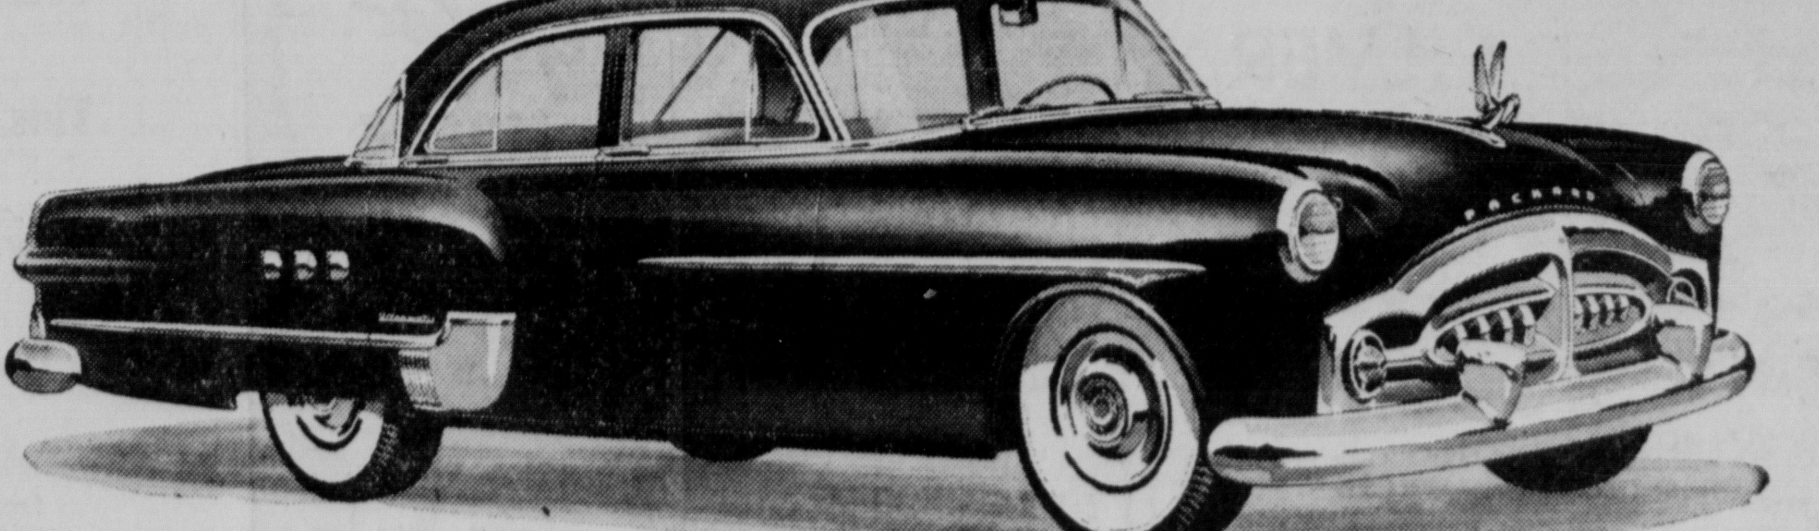

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Large Family Keeps One Young at Heart, According to 90-Year-Old Celebrant

By FRANCES WROBEL
(Mercury Society Editor)

"Having a large family keeps one young at heart and happy," according to the smiling, hearty, Mrs. Laura Christman, of 504 Walnut street who has seen nine decades of living, and who should certainly know.

There was a twinkle in her alert, blue eyes as she reclined against a living room chair and spoke of her seven children, five grandchildren, and a young great-granddaughter, who made an appearance ten weeks ago in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Benette, Long Island, N. Y.

The sedate grand lady observed her 90th birthday yesterday at a dinner party given in her honor, by the 15 members of the family, at Brookside Country club. There were lots of birthday congratulations and surprises for the white haired great grandmother, who wore a beautiful white orchid from her son Oliver's High street flower shop. And best of all was the musical sound of young and old laughter that permeated the scene.

It was this family laughter, she contends, that made her house on Walnut street, where she has lived for 51 years, a home. And she strongly opined that "a woman's place is definitely in the home," that is, if possible, she seeks true contentment in life. Seeing happy countenance and good health, one could hardly dissent.

AS SHE CHATTED amiably, a piece of knitting nestled in the lady's lap. This, she explained would be made into an afghan, eventually, and would be sent to the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia as were the afghans before it.

For the past few years Mrs. Christman has been devoted to her knitting and has sent many afghans to the hospital. These are submitted by her daughter, Mrs. Sara Reifsnider, through the Navy Mothers club, of which she is a member.

When her nimble fingers are not busy knitting, Mrs. Christman likes to play a few hymns on the piano and lend her still resonant alto tones in accompaniment to the joy of her family. The 90-year-old celebrant began her singing way back when celluloid collars were the fashion, in the choir of the Pottstown Baptist church. And music being one of her greatest joys, she has never stopped singing.

Many members of her family have inherited her vocal talents such as her daughter Mrs. Reifsnider, who teaches piano as well, and Mrs. Reifsnider's daughter, Mrs. Berlette, who also plays and sings. Mrs. Christman's granddaughter, Marie Christman, sings with the choir of Hood college, where she is studying. And grandson Earl Christman sang with the Princeton Seminary choir. The choir recently returned from a Summer tour in Alaska.

When this galaxy of musical Christmans get together during holidays or family celebrations, the living room vibrates with mellifluous choral sounds, especially on Christmas day when the family members assemble at the High street home of Leroy H. Christman and ardently extol the virtues of the Holy Family in song.

MRS. CHRISTMAN was born in Pottstown, Chester county, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shuler. Her father was the proprietor of a general store. Those were the good old horse and buggy days when the young Miss Shuler would see people alighting from a carriage on a busy Saturday to do their weekly shopping in her father's establishment. After the then young Miss Shuler was graduated from Ivy Institute, a private school for girls, she was schooled in the duties of a housewife and given the management of her parents' eight-room house.

Those were the days when a young woman's mind and heart were a hundred percent in the home. A woman didn't have the modern conveniences of electric sweepers, two minute floor wax, or a magic electric washer to give her any leisure time to think about a business career.

SOME 60 ODD years ago the Shuler family moved to Pottstown and on April 15, 1886 their daughter became the bride of the late Mr. Harry Christman in the Shuler King street home. The newlyweds then moved into the house at 508 Walnut street where they lived for 13 years, then moved next door to 504 Walnut street, where the family grew up and where Mrs. Christman has lived ever since.

When the spry lady is not actively engaged in some household pastime, such as baking for pleasure, or sewing, she likes to visit with her dearest, and only remaining girlhood friend, 87 year old Mrs. John Saylor, of High street.

The two "young at heart" friends like to get together over the teacups and reminisce—about yesterday's oil lamp days and buggy rides in the country.

Riding in the country has always been one of Mrs. Christman's greatest pleasures and modern inventions have even made it more so, she says. Riding in a buggy was fun in its days, but riding in an automobile is really a luxury, and you can cover so much more territory at one time. And she adds, "Believe me, I never refuse an automobile ride." For at 90 years of age she is as enthusiastic and as vivacious as ever.

Could You Accurately "Price"

This Diamond Ring, Yourself?

-if not, where you buy is important!

A 3/4 carat ring might be worth anywhere from $300 to $850 depending upon hidden qualities that you can't judge just by "looking." Nor can a jeweler himself, without the proper scientific instruments, backed by vast gemological study, and experience.

Such proven specialized knowledge together with evidence of unquestionable business integrity are but two of the qualifications that are required for your protection, before the coveted title Registered Jeweler of the American Gem Society can be won by any jeweler.

Note: It's impractical to choose a ring from a "picture." Therefore no attempt at realism is intended, above. See the actual rings here, in "real life!"

Miniatures Shown At Recent Garden Club Meeting

The Garden club held its meeting yesterday afternoon in the garden of "Hillside" home of Mrs. Maurice Mosheim.

Guest speaker for the day was Mr. Raymond J. Middleton, president for 18 years of the Audubon Club of Norristown, who spoke about banded birds.

Mr. Middleton has been banding birds for 29 years and has 70 cages in use now. He has reached into his cages 70,000 times and taken a bird out. He has just as many repeats as he does new birds. One bird came back 175 times in 52 days.

Of the 34,000 he has banded, over 12,000 came back in later years and have gone into cages again.

Garden club members also exhibited miniature plant arrangements which were all under three inches high. First honors went to Mrs. George Bullard for her pair of gold vases with ageratum. Second honors went to Mrs. Robert Evans for miniature pitcher with feverfew and third honors to Mrs. Walter Neuman for her shadow box with ageratum.

THE PRESIDENT, Mrs. George Bullard, presided at the meeting until the new officers were elected. They were: president, Mrs. Raymond Schumacher; first vice president, Mrs. Carson C. Potter; second vice president, Mrs. Harold Binder; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walter Krause; recording secretary, Mrs. Carl Troutman; and treasurer, Mrs. Francis Hunsberger.

The next Garden Club meeting will be held at a luncheon on Oct. 6. Members will be notified by cards at a later date.

Mrs. Raymond Eppheimer and her committee, together with the hostess served refreshments.

A HOSPITAL party at Coatesville Veterans hospital is being planned by members of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 780 for Sept. 14.

The group met Thursday night in the post home. At the party the women will entertain the veterans with cards, other games, prizes and refreshments. All were urged to attend. They will leave the home at 6 p. m.

It was announced that the auxiliary will join with the post in holding a festival tonight. Mrs. Mabel Bower, president, presided over the meeting.

Fig-in-the-box prize was won by Mrs. Leah Pattison and a special prize won by Mrs. Bower.

APPROXIMATELY 50 persons attended the corn roast and clam bake held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hillborn, Pottstown RD 3, by the Young Adults of Trinity Reformed church. Mr. Robert S. Heffner Jr., president, presided over the brief business meeting, at which the following items were discussed:

The group will pay a $200 balance of the $800 pledge it made towards the improvement plan for the church; they agreed to set a 100 percent attendance goal for the rally day in the Sunday school Sept. 24; and discussed their participation in the preachers mission, to be held Sept. 24 to 29 in Trinity church.

Dr. Alan S. Meek, president of the Lancaster seminary, will speak at this affair. On Oct. 1 they will participate in the observance of World Communion Sunday. A weekend retreat will be attended by the members and families Oct. 6 to 8.

Mrs. Hilborn was in charge of games and those serving on the committee in charge of arrangements were:

Mrs. Warren DeLong, Mrs. John B. Hartenstein Jr., Mrs. Hillborn and Mr. Heffner.

A COMBINED meeting of the Altruist class and the Men's Friendship Bible class of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church was held last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyers, 611 State street. The evening began with a buffet supper. Mrs. Paul Kneiffer, president of the women's group, presided over their meeting, while Mr. Charles Frymoyer, president of the men's class, led their meeting.

Formulation of plans for a musical Oct. 19 in the church were made by the women, who also announced a rummage sale for Oct. 18. Devotions were led by Mrs. Kneiffer.

The next meeting of the Altruist class will be held Oct. 10 in the home of Mrs. Stella Thomas, 383 Walnut street.

Hill Will Try Again To Navigate Falls

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Major Hill, Niagara Falls, Ont., riverman, said today he will make his next attempt to navigate the falls in a barrel about the first week in October.

Major — his Christian name, not a military title — said business commitments would prevent him from making the attempt as originally scheduled Sept. 11.

Hill is now appearing with a water show at the Canadian National exhibition.

In his last attempt to go over the falls early this Summer, Hill was pulled from his specially-built barrel when it became jammed in rocks above the falls.

$100 Oil Heater Stolen From Vacant Home In Sanatoga in Latest Visit by Thieves

A series of burglaries at an unoccupied house owned by Sylvester B. Clary, of Pleasant View road, Sanatoga, was climaxed yesterday when an oil-burning space heater was missed.

Value of the oil burner was set at $100. Altogether, Mrs. Clary said, articles stolen since the past April 28, when the family moved from the house at Kepler road and Sunnyside avenue to their present home, were valued at nearly $200.

Collegeville State police were notified of the latest burglary. They told the Clarys they would arrive today to take fingerprints.

The oil burner weighed nearly 100 pounds. It was 4 feet high and about 2 feet square. Mrs. Clary said she herself could push the burner around a little but believed two men, or one very strong man, could carry it away.

The BROWN ENAMEL heater was not dragged off, she said, since the floor was not marked. But a path of soot was left through the cellar and along the walk outside the house.

The soot was still fresh and soft, Mrs. Clary declared, leading her to think the heater was taken not before Thursday.

Whoever took the heater entered the house by breaking the lock on the door of the enclosed porch, Mrs. Clary said. Previous LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 8 (AP)—"Forgetfulness is no excuse," Police Capt. William Kummer has told many a forgetful motorist who balked at paying the delinquent penalty on traffic citations.

Capt. Kummer heads the traffic bureau here.

Today, he disclosed that in rummaging through a bookcase, he found a book that he borrowed from the city library—Jan. 5, 1927.

The fine, at one cent a day, is $86.38.

He's returning it and hoping the librarian isn't one of those delinquent motorists.

FIRST GRADERS —

school, which she said exists "so you can learn things," is that "I don't like arithmetic."

SUE ANN MOSHEIM, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Mosheim, 320 North York street, and a First-grader at Lincoln school, said, "I'd like to be a hairdresser."

Did she get the idea from any particular person?

"No, I just got an idea to be a hairdresser. My mother got a Toni and I want to be a hairdresser."

She said she understood that her ambition might be furthered by practicing on her doll, but added, "I'm not practicing now because she doesn't even hardly have any hair." She said she likes school and that "the best part is play."

ANOTHER LINCOLN school First grade pupil, Phyllis Louise Neiffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Neiffer, 273 North Hanover street, also wants to be a hairdresser.

Her sister, Jane, has a doll. Jane's big-much bigger than me even," she said, stretching her arm over her head to illustrate. "I put curls in Jane's doll." Phyllis said she doesn't know exactly how old Jane is ("I haven't asked her"). But she said Jane was grown-up.

She said that, yes, children should go to school. Why?

"It's . . . They HAVE to go to school!" For here, that ended it.

A FIRST-GRADER at Rupert school, Ronald "Ronnie" Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Bailey, 993 South Hills boulevard, was the only one interviewed to deem it important to volunteer where his father works ("He works at Doeber's").

Ronnie has perhaps the most extensive set of ambitions: "I'd like to be a doctor or tennis (player)," he started out.

Has he been practicing? "No."

When would he start. "When I get seven." He said later, "And I'm going to practice on a horn. I have a sister and she plays a horn."

"But first, I'm going to be a piano player."

Ronnie also had the most elaborate answer to the question of why people should go to school. "They have things to do in school and they have to do them or they're . . . they'll go to jail!"

BENNY CARTY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carty, 28 Scott street, Penn Village, a First-grader at Jefferson school, was the best representative of good-old-fashioned shyness.

For instance, he gave his age by holding up six fingers. After he loosened up a little, it turned out that one of the fingers was for good measure; he's really five.

He also overcame his shyness long enough to say he wants to grow up to be a policeman. "And catch the crooks in town."

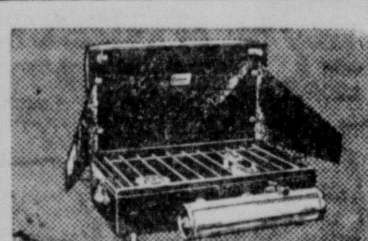

DEBORAH ANN Hampton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hampton, 356½ Apple street, in the First grade at St. Clair school, was a little disconcerted as being asked what her father's name was. "He's Daddy . . . Just Daddy."

She was the only child to admit frankly that she hasn't yet decided what she's going to be when she grows up. She said she likes school—the books and coloring best. She left two dogs behind her at home. So far, they haven't followed her to school.

Sherry Boyer, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Boyer, 512 Lincoln avenue, in the First grade at Jefferson school, is another girl who wants to be a cowgirl out West. "I play cowboys and cowgirls out West."

She's also thinking of being a nurse in Pottstown. She likes school. If she had to change anything, it would be the books.

Commonwealth's witnesses.

POTTSTOWN Patrolman Joseph Thees, who swore out the original warrant charging Eckenrode with homicide a few hours after Tyce's death, took the stand first.

He told of the sequence of events, how he was called to High and York streets, Pottstown, at 11:15 p. m. Aug. 30, and saw Tyce on the pavement of York street, north of High street.

Thees said the man's face was injured, one eye swollen and blood coming from his mouth and nose.

Tyce was pronounced dead upon arrival at Pottstown hospital.

(A pathologist's report to the coroner the next day noted that Tyce had unusually thin brain walls and that death, caused by a brain hemorrhage, could have been the result of excitement and shock alone, but that the blows did not kill the man.)

Pottstown Patrolman Russel B. Hummel, the second witness, said Tyce was his wife's uncle and that he identified the body.

JOHN S. MACE, 118 King street, Pottstown, who had been with Tyce the night he died, testified that he and Tyce were sitting on a window ledge on High street, near York street, when Eckenrode went into the Eden bar, 107 High street, at 10:45 p. m.

He said Eckenrode came out about 10 minutes later, "and came over to me and Tyce. He grabbed Tyce's hat and hit me over the head with it."

Eckenrode said, Mace testified, "Get up and I'll fight both of you."

Mace declared that he then walked away. Asked by Di Joseph about Eckenrode's condition, he said that he apparently had been drinking, and was staggering.

Mace continued that he went to look for a policeman, and as he looked around, saw Tyce go around the corner, with Eckenrode chasing him up York street.

The witness testified that he did not see any blows struck or any struggle take place.

UNDER CROSS-examination by Rosenberry, Mace said that he did not know Eckenrode before that night and that he did not see him actually touch Tyce.

At 3 o'clock the morning of Aug. 31, after Pottstown police had captured Eckenrode in a diner and brought him back to borough hall police headquarters, Mace identified him there.

Next to testify were John W. Fadler Jr., of Pottstown RD 3, and Anne Focht, 305 North York street, Pottstown.

Fadler said he was driving along High street, turning into York street at 11:05 p. m., when he saw a man on the pavement and another man kicking his head.

He asserted that he could not describe either man.

Miss Focht said that she saw the man on the pavement receive two kicks in the face.

BIRTHRATE —

births a month so far this year," he said.

Bushey's figures brought added support to a theme voiced in an editorial in yesterday's Mercury, "This Is Year for Action," which pointed out that "the borough's schools are not big enough for its children."

As a sidelight, Bushey pointed out that the birthrate recently in Pottstown has been more than four times as high as the death rate. The average for the past four months has been only 28 deaths a month, bringing the year's average to 30.

"That's very low, exceptionally low," he declared.

Bushey also gave a breakdown on the 130 births in August. Of these, 128 were born in the two hospitals, Memorial and Pottstown, and the other two were born at homes in Pottstown.

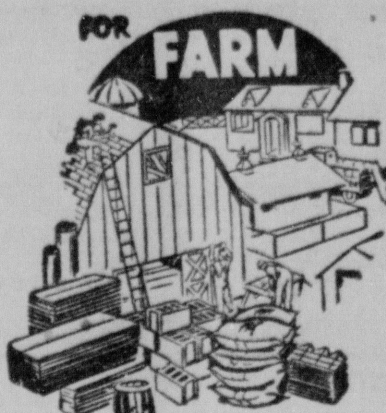

And there were 70 females to 60 males—which is nothing unusual, Bushey said.

"The female is always greater than the male," he said with a smile. We usually don't have quite as many males."

In the days of ancient Greece, a bent or beheaded pin was supposed to have magical powers.

required for each installation of an oil burner or other heating unit, television antenna, or other electrical equipment.

J. Wayne Knause, who also is chairman of the finance committee, pointed out that the 1950 budget has no provision to pay a fire marshal, anyhow.

The committee decided that the fire marshal would be a part-time official, but was uncertain about how much he should be paid.

Finally, Knause suggested $75 a month, "contingent on what develops." If more work is done than appears necessary now, the amount would be raised.

SEARS WAS authorized to start action to have the fire code amended, to raise the present $5 license fee for electricians.

Fifteen dollars annually, the council thought, would be a more proper charge.

The group voted to give bound copies of the fire ordinance to those who took out licenses, but to charge all others $1.75 a copy.

In addition to Weis and Knause, the meeting was attended by Mahlon Frick, a committee member, Burgess William A. Griffith, Sears and Lindauer.

Reading Fair to Open Tomorrow; 1500 Animals on Display

READING, Sept. 8 (AP)—Record crowds assured by a heavy advance ticket sale, the mid-century Reading fair opens Sunday for eight days and seven nights.

Gates will swing open at 9 a. m. Sunday and Fair President John S. Giles says that every exhibit on the grounds will be ready for viewing at that hour.

"We've made every effort," said Giles, "to have all displays and exhibits ready for opening day. And our efforts have been rewarded. I'm proud too, that the entries in the various agricultural exhibits far exceed anything in fair history."

In the livestock departments alone, some 1500 animals have been entered, including 215 standard bred horses who will go in the harness race meeting, which starts Monday.

The Reading fair has Pennsylvania's only grand circuit track.

A total of 470 swine, 314 head of cattle, 441 sheep, and 95 draft horses also will be at the fair, in addition to thousands of heads of poultry, and several thousand rabbits and calves.

Judging starts tomorrow in the Art and Needlework department even though the fair does not open officially until Sunday.

FORMAL OPENING ceremonies will be held on the grandstand stage at 2 p. m., with Berks County Congressman George M. Rhoads greeting the fairgoers. At 2:30 o'clock the first entertainment feature will get underway when Jack Kochman's "Hill drivers present a two hour program and automobile and motorcycle stunting on the fairground track."

Giles said that the Sunday evening grandstand show will be the largest ever presented at a Reading fair. The entertainment bill is headed by crooner Frank Sinatra, comedian Jerry Colonna and songstress Jeanette Davis, of Arthur Godfrey show. All three will give a repeat performance Monday night.

Sunday night's show also will include special ceremonies honoring eight Berks county couples who were married in September 50 years ago.

Sharing billing Monday night with Sinatra-Colonna-Davis will be the semi-finals of the "Miss Reading Fair" beauty contest, and the initial public appearance of "Mrs. America of 1950."

UAW Wins City League Crown

DOWN'S FLAGGS, 7-5; WAYOCK SPARKS DRIVE

UAW made a joke of a jinx in the gloaming of Franklin field last night when the slug-conscious Workers belted Flaggs, 7-5, to capture the deciding test of the City-Industrial league championship playoffs.

Down with the Flaggs went a "law" as old as the league itself that rules against a seasonal winner doubling its take by copping the Shaughnessy set. The Workers did in the upstart Flaggs in four games, including three straight victories after they had fallen under a crushing 8-2 defeat in the opener.

There was little space for doubt after last night's game. The Workers, who scored all their runs before UAW's hard-hitting nine yesterday wrapped up the Shaughnessy playoffs of the City-Industrial league to become the first team in loop history to win both the seasonal championship and the ensuing playoffs. First row, left to right are: the batboy, Franny Wolfe, Mike Pavlick, Al Gombos, Jack Fout, Jim Reed, and Bob Fillman; second row: Alex Turzo, Stan Wayock, George Misko, Ed Hallman, Homer Royer and George Wayock; and third row, Ed Miller, Joe Cocie, Joe Ruyak, Oscar Koch, coach, Gabe Fienl, Slick Smith and Manager Pop Myers.

UAW	FLAGGS

Turzo, rf	4 0 1 1 3
Pavlick, rf	4 0 1 1 3
Wayock, 3b	4 0 0 3 1

fore Flaggs scratched, had the punch at the plate, and fair pitching that turned terrific in the play-offs. And they had a well-jointed defense, that flickered on odd occasion, but never buckled as had other OIL garrisons.

One of UAW's oldtimers fittingly supplied the major drive for last night's team-winning effort. Second sacker George Wayock lotted Jim Mull for a well-conned homer in the second inning, then singled home another run to start a five-run gush in the fourth.

That outburst which saw the Workers knock Mull, their conqueror of the first game, for six hits, spelled the difference. Flaggs had its lead and lost, and Ed Hallman's stifling relief work was but a pleasant afterthought.

ON THE UAW HILL, Joe Ruyak notched his second finals triumph over Flaggs, although he was bumped around for five runs over the final two innings.

He surrendered a total of ten hits, but used his six strikeouts to make choke of several rallies-in-the-making. He gave up but three hits in pitching four runless frames before his mates furnished him with enough scores to win.

WAYOCK'S HOMER broke the lock. It was a four-baser from the belt and sailed far into the auto lot past leftfielder Bob Millard.

That run held up for another inning and then the Workers brought out their wrecking tools in the fourth. Ed Hallman rammed a single off Ken Shellenberger's chest at third, and Ruyak beat out a bunt for a safety. Hallman was caught when Slick Smith attempted to sacrifice, but George Wayock slammed a single to left, admitting Ruyak.

Bob Fillman then threaded the slot between second and first base for a single to score Smith, and when Franny Wolfe lofted a broken-bat bloop into center, George Wayock romped around for the second time.

That brought Manager Al Ramsdell off the bench to talk to Mull, but the hefty righthander was elected to stick around. The decision held up for just one more pitch. Jack Fout smacked that one for a double, along the leftfield tape, scoring Fillman and Wolfe and sending Mull to an early tub.

Harv Sheetz, the second sacker, came on to put Alex Turzo and Stan Wayock down on groundouts, battenning the hatches after the decision had jumped ship.

EVEN SHEETZ, who struck out four in his three inning stint, was not to escape Worker fury. The visitor jabbed him for their final run in the fifth on Hallman's single. George Wayock's bloop double to right that insured his perfect day, and Fillman's single to left.

UAW stopped there with just enough marbles to win. But Flaggs came roaring back.

In the fifth, Bob Millard singled, Duke Herman walked and Norm Sundstrom cleaned the bases with a rolling home run to left that trickled between the left and centerfielders and bounced 400 feet. It was a line single past shortstop at its birth, and a rolling homer once it found the pole.

Ruyak struck out Hook to quell that burst.

In the sixth, Ken Sheetz clouted his second of three hits, a double into the rightfield stands, and scored after Ernie McCord singled to center, when Hallman bobbed the ball.

Lou Millard tacked on another single with one away, but McCord braked at third and was left there when Ruyak whiffed Shellenberger and got Bob Millard on a fly to right.

The final Flaggs tally crossed in the seventh while darkness was closing in rapidly. Merrill Hook lofted a flyball to rightfield, and when rightfielder Mike Pavlick missed in a gallant shoestring catch effort, the ball rolled through for a three-base hit.

Ken Sheetz then rattled a single to right to fetch the run, but he languished on the base when McCord bounded to second for the final out.

Erntex, Juniors Win in Outdoor Court Tourney

Erntex's defending outdoor basketball tourney champs moved into the third round last night by squeezing past Brower's Boys, 33-27, at the Rupert playground. The evening's other attraction saw the Junior Trojans notch their initial win in their loop inaugural, bowling over the Stove Stars, 41-35, in a free-shooting contest.

The Brower's Boys-Erntex mix, through a quirk of the schedule, pitted probably the two finest fives against each other in the second round.

The Boys were handicapped first by Brower Yeger's late arrival—he missed the first eight minutes—and secondly by his inability to hit on one field goal try, as Dick Bender did a masterful job of blanketing the Lafayette leaper. Yeger's total point output for the evening was one foul.

High man for the Boys turned out to be Vic Bruno, with 11 markers, while Bender garnered eight for the Knitters.

Dave Reidenouer, Roy Hallman and Elwood Brown were the spark-plugs of the Junior Trojan attack which smothered Stowe.

Reidenouer snared 12 points on an even half dozen field goals, while Brown and Hallman shared 20 points between them.

Sam DiGiosia's 14 points and Steve Sabo's 12 paced the Stars, who trailed 20-19 at intermission.

Curt Simmons To Face Boston

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8 (AP) — Pfc. Curt Simmons of the U. S. Army gets another chance to pitch for the pennant-driving Philadelphia Phillies tomorrow against the Boston Braves.

Simmons, one of the main reasons the Phils are leading the National league today, has won 17, lost eight this year. He'll be trying for win No. 18 with only two days rest.

The 21-year-old lefthander from Egypt, Pa., leaves for Camp Aterbury, Ind., Sunday with the 28th Infantry division, Pennsylvania National guard, just called to Federal service.

The chances are unlikely that he'll pitch again — except maybe for Uncle Sam. Officers of Curt's artillery unit have announced there will be liberal passes for the men in the hours before they leave for camp.

Simmons' last pitching appearance was Wednesday night against the Brooklyn Dodgers. He left the mound in the ninth inning, sporting a 2-0 lead after giving up only two hits. The Brooks went on to score three runs to win, reliever Jim Konstanty was charged with the loss.

BAUER BENEFIT

Will You Help, Buddy?

POTTSTOWN, if you haven't guessed, is a rabid, but picky sports hotbed. When fans sniff a stinker in the manufacture, they can create large areas of vacuum with their absence.

But give them a worthy benefit, and nine times out of nine, they'll elbow their way in to chip in and give something or somebody a boost.

We hope and feel confident that's what will happen this afternoon at 2 o'clock on Franklin field when the Sunday School All-Stars and Pottstown's sterling Legion Juniors make a competitive mission of mercy for the benefit of Harold Bauer, a badly injured Sunday School leaguer.

It's not particularly important that the beneficiary of today's proceeds is going to be Harold Bauer. The name means little. It could be Bill Smith or Joe Jones, or any guy who has given the old post-grad try in this city's amateur sports program for Phil Fan in general to enjoy.

The kids who cavort on the playgrounds, particularly in the after-work leagues and before good sized audiences, are chipping in with a lot of virtually free entertainment for Pottstown folk, and whether they play football, baseball or a fast game of shuffleboard, they are taking something of a chance.

IT JUST SO happens in this case that it is a chap named Hal Bauer.

Bauer got his—a painful and serious brain injury—when he was diving to cut off a run at home plate as his transfiguration AA and Trinity were locked in a championship semifinal game.

The TAA catcher was kicked and spiked. Not maliciously, but it was just one of those things that happen in the turmoil of a good baseball game.

When they carted Bauer away, he was still as a wheat field on a windless day. And for nearly two weeks he was in a restless coma, taking his chow through the nose, and unconsciously suffering unknown pain.

Pottstown doctors conferred and decided a brain operation alone would pull the boy through. They sent him to Jefferson hospital in Philadelphia where specialists performed the delicate surgery, calling up all their skill to preserve a life.

Almost two weeks later, Bauer came back to this world. Early this week he was still in critical condition, but visitors brought back the heartening news that he is rallying and fighting—just like he was that Aug. 22 evening when he was knocked—and now he has the odds on his side.

BUT YOU CAN'T fight back against doctor and hospital bills. They have to be paid, and in Bauer's case, his wife and child have to be fed, housed and clothed while those bills are being paid.

There are no compensation provisions for most of Pottstown's ball clubs. The kids get out there and play and run the chance of getting knocked. Many of them have no responsibilities. Unfortunately, however, Bauer does.

Pottstown already has rallied wondrously behind Bauer, and what he stands for. His church has launched a dollar-a-day subsistence plan for Mrs. Bauer and the youngster, a benefit game has been played, and sportsman "Mush" Bechtel has inaugurated a donation campaign.

But today is the payoff, literally. Today, those who have given and those who are pushing the "Bauer Benefit" are asking you neighbors to come out and help.

YOU'LL GET INTO the ball game free, but sometime in the middle innings, the hat will go around. It means a two-bit or a dollar bite to you, the price, maybe, of a ham sandwich. But to the Bauers, it means grub for the winter and a slice off the mounting hospital bills.

And when your hand goes into your pocket, let your heart guide the fingers. You'll be glad to look into the mirror when you get home.

WE'D LIKE to tell you that the ball game will be epochal, but we can't. On the form chart, the state championship runnerup Legion nine should have things its own way, even if ace Jess Baro does not pitch.

The Sunday School leaguers have lined their club with the top of the crop—and it is likely Bauer would have been in the lineup had the unfortunate been someone else—but the Legion was there first when young ball players were being plucked.

There is a possibility that the fray will turn into something interesting, however, in that the All-Stars are power-laden at the plate. With any kind of pitching it could be close.

But like we were saying, the benefit's the big thing. You can check over the donation list in Bechtel's sports shop and you'll find the names of many young chaps who have played ball with Bauer in high school and in city league endeavors.

"They're asking for help in putting this thing over. Will you lend a hand, buddy?"

GENE CLEMENS ... big assignment

Clemens May Pitch Today For SS Nine

Gene Clemens likely will inherit one of the stiffest tasks of his young pitching career today when he faces Pottstown's Legion Juniors for the Sunday School All-Stars in a benefit game on Franklin field.

The young, slender righthander hurled fine ball for North Coventry High last season, then went on to pitch Trinity into second place in the SS league. Between times, he served a stint with the Birdsboro Legion unit of the Berks county league.

Behind Clemens today will be the best players in the Sunday School circuit, including Steve Sabo of CVA, the league's home run leader, and a half a dozen more players from the champion Catholics.

The Legion probably will send either righthander Mike Kricky or lefty Dave Reidenouer to the mound. The team will line up just as it did in the final contest of the state championship playoffs against Monongahela.

Manager Pigdie Kepner urged all Legion players to report to the field by 1:30 when their pictures will be taken for framing and distribution among the players.

Kepner also announced that the team will be honored at a banquet on Sept. 27.

Proceeds from today's game will go to the family of Harold Bauer, injured seriously in a Sunday School league game on Aug. 22. Gametime is 2 o'clock.

Trojans Blow Hot and Cold In Scrimmage Engagement

Pottstown High's coaching staff could pick out a few heartening points today in picking over yesterday's Franklin field scrimmage session with Emmaus High, but there will be plenty of sandpapering over the rough spots for the next two weeks.

The largely inexperienced Trojans were able to punch through the dogged, but outmanned Emmaus defenders for a handful of touchdowns and potential TDs that were whistled down. Defensively, they surrendered two probable scores.

On the profit and gain side, Coach Heeb Meyers could point to:

1. A potentially dangerous passing attack with quarterback Stan Chaplin or fullback Sam Green pitching, and surfering ends, Tom Pollick and Paul Duttenhofer on the receiving end.

2. Two scabback threats in Alex Czariak and Carl Brown. Czariak is a pint-sized driver, Brown a slender, slippery customer who slithered through the entire Emmaus team for one 60-yard dance.

3. As fine a pair of line-backers as you'll want in Chaplin and Green, and a capable partner behind a five-man line in Herbie White, switched from end to guard.

4. A plentitude of manpower, though it's probably more man than power.

On the bleak side:

1. Line blocking is, at this juncture, strictly subpar. Assistant Coach Bill McCabe explains it thusly, "partly from ineptitude, partly from ignorance of assignments."

Lou Millard tacked on another single with one away, but McCord braked at third and was left there when Ruyak whiffed Shellenberger and got Bob Millard on a fly to right.

The final Flaggs tally crossed in the seventh while darkness was closing in rapidly. Merrill Hook lofted a flyball to rightfield, and when rightfielder Mike Pavlick missed in a gallant shoestring catch effort, the ball rolled through for a three-base hit.

Ken Sheetz then rattled a single to right to fetch the run, but he languished on the base when McCord bounded to second for the final out.

BANNER FIELD AT SANATOGA

Another banner field in expected to vie tonight on Sanatoga Speedway when a seven-event stock car racing card will be bolstered by a special match race.

Bobby Rolland of Reading and Pottstown's Blackie Reider and Monk Keller are pitted in the featured match race. It will be a grudge race, ten laps.

Grid Officials Attend School

Officiating techniques for the coming intercollegiate football season in the Philadelphia area will be perfected this weekend at Ursinus college, Collegeville, where the Philadelphia chapter of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Officials association is holding their annual clinic.

About 125 members of the association from Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey registered at clinics at the opening of the sessions, yesterday afternoon.

Sessions will continue until tomorrow noon.

Designed to acquaint the officials with rules changes and to provide instruction in improving their officiating, the clinic program includes discussions on rules interpretation, lectures on techniques, as well as football movies, examinations and field demonstration at Camp Sholom, near Collegeville, today, when the Temple university and Lafayette college elevens will scrimmage.

Last night's program was devoted to a review of rules interpretations.

Hatfield Cards Wrestling Show

HATFIELD, Sept. 8—Luis Accora, Argentine's "Wild Bull" of the Pam-pas, will stack his power and agility against the "Atomic Thrust" in Saturday night's wrestling matches at the Hatfield Speedway.

His opponent will be the atomic specialist, Marvin Mercer, of Reading, Pa., who is undefeated in a long list of mat engagements. Accora made his bow at Hatfield last week, and although he was pinned, put up such a battle that Promoter Duke Wilcox is using him in the featured match.

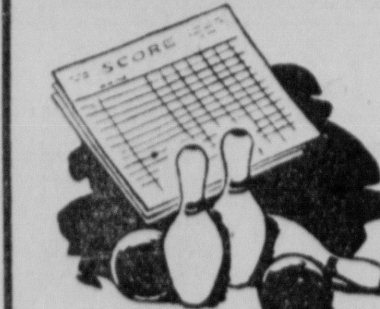

The popular tag-team event will see four good men embroiled in a hot battle. Frank Wnucke, the Flying Dutchman, and Buck Kartalian, the "Hell's Kitchen roughneck," will comprise one team, and will buck up against Tony Rinaldi, of Italy and Buddy Brodsky, of Poland. It was Brodsky who downed the impressive "Wild Bull" last week.

The preliminary will be a fast thirty minutes between George Tragas, of Greece, and Bob Riker, of Canada.

Midway through the session, Green intercepted an Emmaus pass, flanked the scrimmage line, cut back and ran alone. Then Brown reeled off his dazzer, a quick opening play that put him in the secondary and on his own before most spectators could find the ball. Once clear, the 150-pounder did a neat hip-swinging act to trick the 60-yard distance.

The visitors shoved over their TDs only after Meyers began filling his platoon with rookies. Line Coach Morrie Grig used virtually his entire delegation, and that brought him down to 140-pound gentlemen where 200-pounders should cavort.

He opined, "We have three second-string lines," but he still could find room for hope after the affair.

Pep Injures Shoulder, Saddler Takes Title

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Willie Pep, a disconsolate little figure, lost the featherweight championship of the world to Sandy Saddler at Yankee Stadium tonight as he sat on his stool between rounds with a dislocated shoulder.

Apparently on his way to a one-sided victory over the skinny-legged Negro, the great little battler from Hartford, Conn., took a huge crowd of 35,000 completely by surprise when he failed to come up for the eighth round and Referee Ruby Goldstein raised Saddler's arm in token of victory.

Saddler thus regained the title he lost to Pep 19 months ago at Madison Square Garden after having previously dethroned Pep in October of 1948.

There was no hint that Pep was in difficulties when he returned to his corner after a rough seventh round. But he had no more than reached his stool when his manager, Lou Viscusi, beckoned Dr. Vincent Nardiello, official physician for the state athletic commission, into the ring. The doctor still was leaning over examining the stricken fighter when the bell rang for the eighth round. It will go into the record as an eighth round knockout.

Phils Halt Spin; Tigers Win

Russ Meyer Halts Brooklyn; Boston Defeats New York

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8 (AP)—Philadelphia's league-leading Phils choked off Brooklyn's desperate bid for a clean sweep of the four-game series, salvaging tonight's final, 4-3, to snap a five-game losing streak and increase their margin over the Dodgers to five and a half games.

Russ Meyer and Eddie Waitkus, two of the senior members of the Phils' rotation, were the leading forces in the Phils' tenth victory over Brooklyn in 18 meetings.

Meyer, pitching his first complete game since July 5, shackled the Brooks with six hits, only two coming after the third inning. His sacrifice, too, as two of his three sacrifice bunts set up a pair of runs.

Waitkus rapped a double and two singles in four official times at bat and drove in two runs. The 30-year-old first baseman also sparked in the field, digging up several low throws into the dirt to prevent Brooklyn scores.

THE PHILS collected eight hits off losing Erv Palica, half of them coming in the first inning to provide them with a 2-0 lead. Each team scored a run in the second. Thereafter both pitchers settled down to hurl airtight ball.

The Phils picked up what proved to be the winning run in the sixth on Mike Golt's one-bagger, Meyer's sacrifice and a double by Waitkus to take a 4-1 advantage. Duke Snider's homer in the eighth following a single by Pee Wee Reese made it 4-3 and gave the 14,727 cash customers a scare. Meyer bore down, however, and retired the last four batters in succession.

It was the 27-year-old right-hander's eighth victory against 11 defeats and his third in six decisions with the Dodgers. It marked the first time that Meyer had gone the route against Brooklyn this season.

Besides going down to defeat the Dodgers also lost the services of Jackie Robinson. The star second baseman, sustained a bruised left thumb in making a fine stop of Jack Mayo's single behind second base in the first inning.

Hearn Beaten

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Tommy Hearn's home run, his seventh of the year, was the decisive blow today as the Boston Braves defeated the New York Giants again. This time the score was 4 to 3. It was the thirteenth triumph for the Braves over the Giants in 18 games.

Hearn's blow, off big Jim Hearn, came in the seventh and found Walker Cooper and Sid Gordon on base. Both had walked. The defeat was the second for Hearn since joining the Giants in July. He has won eight since then. Both of Hearn's defeats have been by the Braves.

The Giants were completely baffled by Warren Spahn until the eighth when they got all their runs. Two walks and three singles ruined the southpaw's shutout. It was his 18th win.

UAW WINS

prove anything, their romp through the playoffs did. With Homer Royer and Rudy supplying the throwing, UAW chilled the Amvets in two straight semifinal tests, then squelched Flagg in three of four. That left the double champs with a season log of 15 wins, five setbacks.

Manager Pop Myers, grey-thatched and Shottonish in his civic garb topped with a maroon baseball cap, had no doubt from the bell. He joked off the Workers' initial loss to the Flaggmen, then showed followers why.

Pop's boys belted 11 hits last night and seven of them chipped in. Besides Wayock's perfect three-for-three, Bob Fillman and Ed Hallman had two apiece.

Ken Sheetz, a young left-hander, led the losers with three good smacks in four trips.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Up to the time of the unhappy ending, Pep had piled up a commanding margin on points. On this writer's scoreboard he had won 5 of the 7 rounds and dealt steady, stabbing punishment to the challenger.

SADDLER'S BEST round had been the third, when he dumped Pep to the floor with a hard left hook on the button. Pep stayed down for a nine count and came up to give better than he received for the remainder of the round. Saddler also earned the seventh round, but by a hair.

All the others had gone to Pep by handy margins, and it appeared to be only a question of whether his 28-year-old legs could carry him the remainder of the route at the stiff pace he was setting. He had left-jabbed Sandy into a partial state of bewilderment and had crossed a score of lustrous lefts and rights to the Negro's jaw.

At the end Saddler's left eye was closing fast. Pep had a cut on his left cheek bone from which considerable gore spilled during the final round.

As the fight went on it became progressively rougher. Apparently angered at his inability to corner the dancing, jabbing Pep, Saddler wrestled him around enthusiastically in the sixth and seventh rounds, and it probably was in one of these tugging matches that Pep's shoulder unhinged.

Detroit Shades Chisox as Tribe Is Beaten Twice

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP)—Vic Wertz's ninth-inning single scored Don Kollaway with the winning run as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, before 17,742 persons tonight to move a half game ahead of New York's second-place Yankees in the American league pennant race.

Yesterday's Results

St. Louis 5-6, Cleveland 4-0. Cole and Kennedy 4-1, 2-1.0. Washington 10, Philadelphia 4. Detroit 3, Chicago 2. Only games scheduled.

Today's Games and Probable Pitchers

New York at Washington—Byrne (14-8) vs. Hudson (12-12). Philadelphia at Boston—(2)—Brisse (7-18) and Kellner (8-16) vs. Dobson (14-8) and Nixon (6-3).

Detroit at Chicago—Houtteman (17-11) or Herbert (1-1) vs. Pierce (9-15). St. Louis at Cleveland—(night)—Garver (10-16) vs. Gromek (8-6).

In all, Cleveland pitchers made four miscues tonight.

Lemon threw wild to the plate and Dick Weik threw a wild pitch in the second game. In the first game, Mike Garcia had one wild throw to second and a wild pitch. In every case, they aided Brownies scoring.

The Browns were aided to two runs in the first game when Garcia threw wild to second on a double-play ball. Sievers, who was on first then, got to third and Hank Artt to first. Singles by Stirnweis and Don Lenhardt scored them.

St. Louis spotted Cleveland four runs in the first game's first inning on a double by Ray Boone, singles by Bob Kennedy, Larry Doby and Joe Gordon, and a walk to Al Rosen. Sherm Lollar tied that game with an eighth-inning homer. Stirnweis, who walked, ran home from second in the ninth on Ken Wood's single for the winning run.

A's Beaten

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Julio Moreno, rookie Cuban right-hander, made his major league debut a winning one tonight as Washington defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 10 to 4.

Washington mauled Joe Murray, Carl Scheib and Joe Coleman for 14 hits, including four by Cass Michaels, who has hit safely in his last seven attempts.

Moreno was staked a 10-0 lead and had a shutout until the eighth, when Paul Lehner's triple and Ferris Fain's outfield fly produced a Philadelphia run.

Grady Qualifies In Reading Open Golf Tournament

Steve Grady, Brookside pro, turned in a 75-75-150 for the first two 18-hole rounds in the $15,000 Reading Open tournament over Thursday and yesterday. His score was good for an eighty-two for 54-58th place behind leader Ted Kroll, who banded out a 132.

Grady's score put him with the top 60 qualifiers and made him eligible for this afternoon's 36-hole final round.

Snead Threatens Kroll's Lead in Reading Tee Test

READING, Sept. 8 (AP)—Long-driving Sammy Snead fashioned a seven under par 65 today to ease to within one stroke of front runner Ted Kroll in the hotly contested Reading Open golf tournament.

Snead tacked his 65 on to an opening round 68 to give him a 36 hole total of 133 after Kroll had come home with what looked like an insuperable 132, under par by 12 strokes.

It was nearly dark when Bill Nary, 6 foot 2 strong man from Chico, Calif., checked in with a brilliant 64 to equal the 18-hole standard for the course. Kroll had a 64 yesterday while Ben Hogan posted one in 1948.

Others still very much in the running were Glenn Teal, Jacksonville, Fla., third at 134; Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., and Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, tied for fourth at 137; Doug Ford, Briar Cliff, N. Y., tied with Nary for sixth, and Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., and Chuck Klein, San Antonio, Tex., deadlocked at 139.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury Staff

Have you considered your vacation plans for next Summer? Well, neither has anyone else. This is no time to be thinking about vacations.

This is the time to be getting the last of the vacation pictures developed and then forgetting about the vacation business completely. It is almost time to start knocking down to work again.

The only fun in musing about vacations, anyway, is when they are just around the corner.

"The same old line," sighed Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wolfgang, of 33 East Fourth street, on the back of a card showing the sunken garden at McMaster university, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

The "line" was, "Hello Everybody, having a swell time visiting people in Hamilton, Ontario. Wish you were here."

Also in Ocean City, taking a "well-needed vacation" were Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Levengood and their daughter, Margaret Ann, no local address mentioned. Ocean City's Ninth street bridge was depicted.

In the United States in 1948, the Salvation Army conducted a total of 676,000 meetings and 100,000 open-air services.

At Watkins N. Y., "having a nice time" but suffering through "cold weather" were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harp, of 311 East street. A falls at the glen was pictured.

On the back of a split card showing two views of the bridge over Sinepuxent bay, Ocean City, Md. Mr. and Mrs. James Krause, 138 Chestnut street, Spring City, said they were having a nice time and were enjoying the fishing and boating.

It's amazing. Here's another couple in Hazleton. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ziegler and their daughter, Sharon, of Pottstown RD 3, wrote on the back of a picture of the
